Hands on Training of Medical and Dental Faculty on CollabDDS was successfully conducted from 21-22 April, 2014 at Centre for Dental Education and Research (CDER), All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), New Delhi.

The Workshop was conducted as a part of the Project "Pilot Implementation of CollabDDS", which is an extension of the NKN Model Project "Network Enabled Medical Diagnosis and Education in Skeletal imaging using X-Rays". 4 Medical and 2 Dental Colleges have been selected for participating in the project. The Workshop was held in order to provide an introduction to CollabDDS and understanding of the Project. Hands on training on CollabDDS was also provided to the participants.

The Workshop was formally inaugurated by Dr M C Misra, Director AIIMS, Prof. S.V. Raghavan, Scientific Secretary to the Principal Scientific Advisor to GoI and Dr Shefali Dash, Director General, NIC. The CollabDDS website (www.collabdds.gov.in) was launched and the Brochure was also released.

Dr. O.P. Kharbanda, Prof. and Head, Department of Orthodontics and Dentofacial Deformities, Centre for Dental Education and Research, AIIMS started the workshop with the Overview of CollabDDS. Dr. Raju Sharma, Professor, Department of Radio-Diagnosis, AIIMS explained the applications and benefits of CollabDDS. Dr. P.K. Roy, Senior Professor, National Brain Research Centre gave a presentation on the Applications of CollabDDS at NBRC for their research activities for the International Brain Grid.

Technical sessions were held, which covered the features and technical aspects of CollabDDS. The participants were shown how to install the software and how to use it. Live Demonstration of Real-time Collaboration using CollabDDS was also given. All the participants also spent time in learning the software. The CollabDDS V1.5 was distributed to all the participants and they were encouraged to install CollabDDS on their laptops and start using it right away. Interactive sessions were also held where feedback was taken from each participating College and their queries/concerns were answered by the CollabDDS Team.

Discussions were also held on how the participating colleges could contribute. Regarding the query of whether it would be possible to get immediate expert advice for a case, it was explained that the project is about conducting a pilot implementation and not about providing a service. Parameters would be provided for the feedback from the participating colleges. This feedback from the colleges is expected to help evaluate the effectiveness and efficiency of remote diagnosis and also provide further enhancement of CollabDDS, in terms of additional features, improvement in existing features, and user interface. Based on the success of the pilot study, the Ministry would take the decision to rollout a service based on CollabDDS and provide a support Centre.
